ADVERTISING

Has created many a new business;
Has enlarged many an old business;
Has revived many a dull business;
Has roused many a dull business;
Has saved many a failing business;
Has secured many a large business;
And insures success in any business.

GIRARD'S SECRET.—Stephen Girard used to say in his old age "I have always considered advertising liberality and long to be the great medium of success in business, and the profits of wealth and it have made it an invaluable rule to advertise in dull times as well as the busiest, long experience having taught me that money thus spent is well laid out, as by continually keeping my business before the public it has secured many sales that I otherwise would have lost."

ADVERTISE YOUR BUSINESS.

KEEP YOUR NAME BEFORE THE PUBLIC.

JUDICIOUS ADVERTISING INSURES A FORTUNE.

IF BUSINESS IS DULL, ADVERTISE.

IF BUSINESS IS BRISK, ADVERTISE.

The Singing Old Folks of Olympia are going to concertize at Kalama.

Helena, M T., pays 45 mills on the dollar as city and county tax for 1873.

Hon. John Hailey, Delegate to Congress from Idaho, left Boise City for Washington on the 11th inst.

The Old Folks' concert given by Olympians at Seattle was voted by all present "one grand success."

A Mormon toll road owner has discharged his gate keeper for allowing a herd of buffaloes to go through free.

Dr Atkinson of Portland occupied the pulpit of the Presbyterian Church at Olympia last Sunday evening.

A hotel keep at Olympia advertises in rhyme. If his victuals are not better than his poetry his guests are to be pitied.

The name of Arizona City is to be changed to that of Yuma. A bill providing for the change has passed the Council.

The Mayor of Denver has proclaimed that the licenses of all liquor saloons where gambling is permitted, will be cancelled.

A large sale of lands at auction will take place at Olympia on the 22d inst. The lands lie in King Lewis and Island counties.

The census taken by the County Assessors last year shows the population of the Territory of Arizona to be 10,743. This is an increase from 1870 to 1872 of 1,085.

The Indian Agents in charge of Camp Grant and the Cochise Indians report that the operations of General Crook are having a good influence on the Apaches in their charge.

Allen McLeod of Muck Prairie, W. T., says one Holman fired a gun at him last week, spoiling his new hat with buckshot. Both were held to answer, according to the Steilacoom Express.

The probabilities are in favor of the stoppage of all heavy mails for Montana and Idaho coming from the eastward, by reason of the horse disease.

Nick Codo, an insane man, escaped from the Territorial Insane Asylum at Steilacoom, a few days ago. After wandering about for a while he attracted attention to himself by setting fire to a barn, and was recaptured.

An Olympia paper suggests that the erection of a building at that place like the one occupied by the New York Herald, costing over $1,000,000, "would give prominence to the town." Why, then, put up a few such structures.

The Idaho Statesman says: "The Sunday law has knocked the toll business out of joint a little. The boys say Boise bridge is free on Sunday. We guess under the Sunday law they are prohibited from collecting toll on that day."

According to the Utah Mining Journal it only takes seven inches of snow to effectually blockade the Utah Railroad. While the fireman sweeps the track with a broom the passengers amuse themselves snow balling each other and hunting jack rabbits.

Who says the Pacific coast is not the garden spot of the world. Away up in Montana, during the past winter, extensive herds of cattle, horses and sheep have done excellently, and have required no feed except what they have found growing spontaneously.

Perry Gossnit, a well known freighter on the Picche and Tosno road, lost twelve fine mules a few days ago, at Egan Canyon, from epizootic—being nearly a quarter of his train. He had refused $600 for one span of the animals lost. They were worked in a cold storm.

For some time past a gang of thieves at Seattle have been in the habit of "breaking through and stealing" anything they could find, and the common people seemed to be without redress. But at last three of the rascals have been captured and part of the stolen property found in their possession.

Twenty six members of the bar in Utah have gotten up and signed a memorial to Congress giving the history of special legislation in that Territory, and their grievances under their judicial system, and asking Congress to provide a code of laws specially adapted to the wants of the people of that Territory.

In the following item going the rounds, for "Olympia," read Kalama, and for "barrooms," read bedroom: "Samuel Brogden's barroom at Olympia was robbed of money and clothing of the value of $100, a few nights ago." Mr. Brogden is satisfied with residence at Kalama and declines to be sot up in the liquor business.

Mr. Garfielde informs an Olympia paper that it has been decided by the Department at Washington that settlers, occupying land under the land laws of the United States, have the right to market such timber as may be cut in the actual and bona fide process of clearing their lands for farming purposes, and that the Department will not permit in the future any interference in such cases by its local subordinates.

The editor of the Corinne Reporter is up to snuff, and few local items glide away before he has his say. He notices the horse disease as follows. "The Episcopic Debating Club meets tonight to discuss the following interesting subject 'Resolved, That, on the principle that parallels never meet, the difference between a jackass and a certain Justice of the Peace may now be regarded as a dead issue.' Many of our politicians are expected to take part in the argument which certainly has the merit of being very intricate, not to say metaphysical subject."

The Salt Lake Mining Journal reports a lecture delivered in that city by a Mr Wandell, who, in speaking of a little girl who was rescued from death at the Mountain Meadow massacre, but whose mother was killed in that fearful slaughter, said "She had recognized her mother's dress on a Mormon woman at Cedar City. The child was at once suspected of knowing too much to be permitted to live. A council of the Priesthood was at once called, who took her out to a convenient place, and after considering her case, doomed her to die A priest, who had received his 'endowments,' was ordered then and there to execute the sentence. He seized her, dashed her upon the ground, planted his knee upon her abdomen, with his left hand seized her by the hair, and with the other hand drew his knife and cut her throat."

HEART DISEASE.—The London Lancet says:

"The death returns show that during the last twenty years there has been a steadily progressive rise in the registered mortality from heart disease in England and Wales. In the year 1850 the recorded fatal cases numbered 11,356, in 1860 they amounted to 11,758, and in 1870 to 25,250 We get a more accurate measure of this increase, when the growth of the population is taken into account. Thus, in the quinquennium 1851–55 the average annual mortality from heart disease amongst males was 7–3 per 10,000 males living, in the next five years it was 8–4; in 1861–65 it was 9 9, and 10–9 in 1866–70 The fatality of the disease amongst females was slightly below the foregoing male ratios, but was marked by an equally rapid growth in the four groups of years. Fully one-third of the entire mortality of males as well as of females occurred between the ages of forty five and sixty five, in the first twenty years of life the fatality is comparatively slight—less than 2 per 10,000; from twenty to forty five years, and over sixty years, the range is from 5 to 8 per 10,000.

OREGON.

From our exchanges it would seem that the farmers in almost every precinct in the Willamette valley are organizing clubs.

We learn that Hon. H Warren, Receiver of the Land Office at Oregon City, has nearly recovered from his lately severe illness

The Beaver Hosiery Company at Jefferson, in this State, received a very favorable notice in a late number of the New York Mercantile Journal.

James Warnick, of Empire, took up a pistol the other day, intending to draw the load, but the load was too quick for him and drew itself through his hand.

A gentleman from the south reports a heavy fall of snow in the vicinity of Rice's Hill, near Oakland, on Saturday night. On French Prairie there was a slight fall of the same article.

The wounded at Fort Klamath hospital are being carefully attended by Dr. Skinner, the military surgeon from Vancouver, who is considered one of the most competent medical men in the service.

It is suggested by a Southern Oregon paper that if the Modoc Peace Commissioners cannot make peace with Captain Jack they can make a "piece" by seizing that $800 which the Captain is said to have in a Yreka bank.

Grant county now makes all the flour she needs for home consumption. It sells at the mill at $4 per 100 pounds. Beef is worth 5 to 6 cents per pound on foot; barley and oats, 1½, and wheat 2 cents. All kinds of home produce is abundant.

At the Klamath Reservation the Indians are all quiet, and have probably come to the conclusion that Captain Jack and his band are "gone in" chickens. At the fort there are between 20 and 30 soldiers as guard for the reservation and fort, and as more troops arrive a larger force will, no doubt, be stationed there.

A German and a disciple of Esculapens, both residents of Hillsboro, had a very wordy altercation on the streets of that burg on Monday about a certain account, which one wanted to stand a while longer and the other desired that it should not run any longer. The quarrel waxed exceedingly warm, but no blood was shed.

An old settler of Grant county, under date of Feb. 9th, writes that the past winter in that region has been very much of the Webfoot style. More rain has fallen than during any previous winter since the country was settled. The mercury has not been below 10 degrees above zero. Stock looked well, and the grass was green and growing like spring.

The lecture delivered by Rev. G. W. Iser, of Portland, at Hillsboro last Saturday evening, is very highly spoken of by our Washington county correspondent, who says it was well attended and afforded a rare intellectual treat to all present. The same gentleman lectured at the same place last night. The next lecture in the course will be given by Dr. Marsh, of Forest Grove, on the 4th of March.

The law fixing the times for holding terms of the Supreme, Circuit and County courts of the State, repealed all other acts on the subject, but, it seems, made no provision for holding the County Court of Union county, and it is thought the only way of now holding a legal term of court for civil, probate or commissioners' business in the County Court of that county is by a succession of adjournments. Thus far all the courts since January 1st have been held in that way.

Men who own stock in the Modoc country have lost thousands of dollars every year in the killing of their cattle by Indians, besides buying their good will in leasing the land they had no legal right to claim. Louie Land, after taking up a ranch on the Government domain, had to pay the Indians horses, provisions, etc., to a considerable amount, before they would permit him to build a cabin. Other settlers, also, had to make similar compromises in settling on the public land anywhere around Tule Lake.

The Coquille valley, in Southwestern Oregon, is said by the Pantagraph to be one of the best portions of the State. But the people have long felt the want of the one thing needful—i. e., a market. Should the survey prove that the river can be opened to trade, many thousands of dollars will roll into the exchequer of Coos, which would otherwise be invested in other markets. Cattle, hogs, sheep and poultry can be raised in lots to supply a foreign demand, while wheat and other cereals can be produced in abundance. The people are only waiting to have a chance for transporting their surplus before branching out too boldly.

By private letter from Grant county we learn that when news of the Modoc war first reached Camp Harney the Snake Indians in that vicinity raised a red flag, and despite all efforts of the officer commanding the post kept it up for several days. Finally the red rascals were informed that unless it was taken down their chief would be hung, and they took it down. The same writer says that much fear is felt in that section that should the difficulty with the Modocs not be settled before April, the Snake Indians will give the people of Grant county serious trouble. The Indians at Camp Harney have already refused their rations, and there are not enough troops there now to protect the Government property should the Indians see fit to commence hostilities. Camp Warner is in no better condition. Our informant further says that he does not believe there is a single warrior among the Snakes who has not either a Spencer or Henry rifle.

BRITISH COLUMBIA.

The Colonial Assembly at Victoria has passed a bill allowing foreigners and femmes sole who pay rates to vote at municipal elections.

The shipment of treasure from Victoria per steamship Prince Alfred, on her last trip, was as follows: Wells, Fargo & Co., $11,344; Bank British North America, $10,271 91. Total, $21,615 91.

The municipal election for Victoria occurred on the 11th inst. Messrs. Gowen, Taylor, Dalby, Drummond, Robinson and Keast were returned to the Council. Not quite five hundred votes appear to have been cast.

The Globe's Ottawa correspondent says: Sir Hugh Allan, Mr. Walker of London, and Mr. H. Nathan, Jr., M. P. of British Columbia, are in the city on Pacific Railway business. A number of other gentlemen prominent in connection with the Pacific Railway negotiations are expected in the morning.

Some rich gold bearing quartz has been discovered on the western coast of Queen Charlotte's Island. On the outcroppings of the seam the Hudson Bay Company's servants mined in 1852, and got some very rich rock, and here also, in the same year, Capt Lang and others were taken prisoners by the Indians, and held as slaves until ransomed with blankets by the Company.

Mr. Horetzky, C E, recently arrived at Victoria, having left Fort Garry in August last, in company with Sanford Fleming and others. At Fort Edmunton, with Prof. McCoun, he left Fleming's party and came through the Rocky mountains by way of Peace river. He left Prof McCoun at Stuart's Lake and struck across the country to Skeena and Naas rivers. The weather has not been very severe in the interior. Naas and Skeena rivers were frozen and part of the journey was made on snow shoes. Mr. Horetzky's mission was to explore the country through the Peace river and Athabasca to Skeenamouth, with a view to its practicability as a route for the railway. It is said that a railway to Skeenamouth would be at least 800 miles shorter than if brought by any other route. So says the British Colonist.

E. C. Sterling has been confirmed as Clerk of the Assay Office at Boise City.

The Utah Thugs.

The letter of George C. Bates to the Detroit Tribune is doubtless intended as a kind of defense to the many and severe strictures upon his official conduct which have of late appeared in Eastern journals. The change of administration in Utah which placed Governor Woods and Mr. Bates in office, afforded occasion for the announcement that thereafter the General Government would undertake a rigid enforcement of the existing laws and the enactment of such other legislation as would check the murderous career of the dominant party. It was said that Brigham Young and the leading apostle of the Mormon Church could be connected with some of the most cruel enormities which were then commonly charged to Mormon rule. The horrors of a Mountain Meadow massacre were still fresh in the memory of our people. The lapse of fourteen years had not dimmed our memory of the terrible night when a band of emigrants, peacefully journeying to the West, were assaulted, and after a gallant defense mercilessly butchered. To this horror was added a score of murders, and finally the cowardly assassination of Dr. Robinson. In fact, so common had this thing of murder and robbery become, that Salt Lake became a nest of braves—a sort of City of Refuge for fugitive criminals. Territorial and Federal law was never recognized. The life of the Gentile citizen was held on most precarious tenure. Avenging Angels, commissioned by the Mormon hierarchy, lay in wait at every street corner in the darkness of night, or, ambushed in mountain defiles, awaited the approach of unsuspecting emigrants. To such a society as this the new dispensation of Mr. Bates came. It was to redress old grievances and prevent new. While it punished the murderer with one hand, with the other it was to dispense the law of love and legal treats brimful of moral suasion. It was emphatically "a hand of iron gloved with velvet."

The arraignment of President Young on a charge of murder created a profound sensation throughout the country. It was known that his conviction would be the signal for the final dissolution of the abominable heresy of Mormonism. His fall was confidently expected. If we characterize the proceedings against Brigham and his followers as a failure we fall far short of the actual truth. Subsequent proceedings against other minor functionaries of the Church terminated quite as disastrously.

In explanation of these reported failures, Mr. Bates now writes to the Tribune that the General Government has no authority in the premises; that United States Courts have no jurisdiction, because such offenses as the Mountain Meadow massacre are violations of "Territorial law;" and lastly, that Congress cannot endow any officers of the United States with power to prosecute the offenders. This we understand to be the tenor of Mr. Bates' defense. He pleads the inability of the General Government to protect its citizens. He tells us that one hundred and forty men, women and children passing through the public domain, may be pitilessly butchered after surrendering themselves upon an agreement of peace and amity, and the butchers go unwhipped of justice. This is the construction placed upon the law by Mr. Bates. But it is at least singular that the District Attorney deferred his inquiry into the legality of his proceedings until after the disastrous failure of the indictments before Judge Strickland.

The Administration has announced a change in its policy with Utah. Let us hope that the successor of George C. Bates may find some authority to justify him in the suppression of the operations of a sect that has fairly earned the title of the Thugs of America.

An Interesting Decision.

An interesting case and one of considerable importance to publishers and book-makers in general, come up recently in the Circuit Court of the United States for the District of Maine. The firm of J. R. Osgood & Co., of Boston, and their predecessors, Fields, Osgood & Co. have for a number of years issued a monthly magazine bearing the title "Our Young Folks." This is a copyrighted publication, the copyright on each number being secured as the number is issued. Edward C. Allen, a publisher of Augusta, Maine, commenced in 1871 the publication of a magazine entitled, "Our Young Folks' Illustrated Paper." The two publications are said to be unlike each other in every respect, except in the similarity of their names. Osgood & Co. brought suit to restrain the publication of Allen's magazine, basing their claims for relief upon two grounds: First, that the copyright secured to them the exclusive right to use the title; and, second, that in the name of their magazine, regardless of the question of copyright, they were entitled to protection on principles analogous to those upon which trade marks are protected. It was alleged in the complaint that the similarity of names misled and deceived the public.

The first point the court—Judge Shepley—overruled, holding that the copyright gave no protection to the title page separately, or in any manner except as it constituted a part of the book. But he sustained the complaint on the second point, and held that a name lawfully adopted stands the same before the law as a trade mark, and is entitled to protection against piracy, upon recognized principles of equity-jurisprudence. The case was referred to a master to take the evidence and to report whether the facts were as alleged.

The Washington correspondent of the St. Louis Republican writes that the Chaplain of the Senate, in his opening prayer on the 1st of February, took occasion to allude to "the evil times upon which we have fallen, when the foundations of society seemed to be upheaved." The Chaplain prayed fervently that the gentlemen who had suffered so severely from the charges of corruption and fraud would yet be enabled to confound their accusers, and come forth from the furnace of affliction with no smell of fire upon their garments. It is hardly necessary to add that the reverend gentleman's petition is heartily subscribed to by Americans generally. We shall expect to see Professor Tyndall's prayer-gauge proposition thoroughly tested.

Mexico dispatches of the 1st inst. announce that the revolution in Tepic, under Lozada, is assuming formidable proportions. It is safe to predict that before the year is out, Tejada will long for the sweet peace of the ermine. What shall we say of the "numerous addresses signed by prominent citizens, congratulating the President on the fact that for the first time in fifty years there are no insurrections of any importance," of which we heard one week ago?

Amadeus' Pretext.

From a Madrid dispatch of the 10th inst. we learn the reputed cause of the hasty abdication of Amadeus, King of Spain. In November last, the Spanish Ministry, contrary to the express wish of His Majesty, appointed the General of Artillery, Don Hidalgo, to the Captaincy of the Basque Provinces. The promotion was offensive to the officers in the army, first, because he participated in the massacre of several hundreds of Prim's brave soldiery, at the barracks of San Gil, in 1866; secondly, because the promotion was irregular and unjustifiable. At the time of the massacre above mentioned, Gen. Prim was engaged in his first revolt against the despot Isabella. There can be little doubt that the army always strongly sympathized with the brave rebel, and their reverence for his memory, made doubly dear by the tragic circumstances of his taking-off, led them to resign their commissions when Hidalgo was promoted. But the latter, meeting everywhere with violent opposition, at last declined the appointment, whereupon the offended artillery officers withdrew their resignations.

Lately, however, the Ministry appointed the obnoxious Hidalgo to a high post in Catalonia. Again the sensitive officers tendered their resignations. But in this last action the Ministry stood firm. Appealing to the Cortes, their action was approved by an almost unanimous vote. The King, who, by the way, has always evinced the greatest respect and affection for the army, made a protence of being greatly piqued at the summary action of his Ministry. By the vote of confidence, he was compelled to chew the bitter end of his defeat and ratify the appointment of Don Hidalgo. He resented the affront and speedily announced his determination to abdicate.

This is the story of Amadeus' wrongs as related to us by the veracious telegraph. It is sufficiently clear that the insult to His Majesty was not such an insult as would induce the average King to abdicate. The grievance, be it real or fanciful, was just such an one as less sensitive or less timid monarchs are compelled to submit to with every change of sentiment in the masses they may govern. We cannot just now call to mind any instance where the reigning monarch voluntarily surrendered the sceptre because, forsooth, his counsellors differed with the crown on a matter of public policy. Abdication is usually the dernier resort of frightened royalty. And it is commonly enforced by the argument of steel and the stern logic of the bayonet. More Kings than one have regarded abdication as equivalent to decapitation, and to all such the headsman's axe has been the dire alternative. But Amadeus is not Louis Capet. Nor is it in any degree likely that a liberal Cortes would have turned regicide. To be sure the Carlist insurrection is ominous of civil war; and yet it was hardly the part of valor in a monarch, honored and trusted as was Amadeus, to fly the arena at the first approach of danger. Amadeus goes forth whimpering, more indeed, like a schoolboy aggrieved at the petty tyranny of his fellows than a dignified monarch of a haughty State. He will go home to his mother, Italy, and be soothed by such sugar plums as his sympathetic parent may have to offer. From the sunny repose of his Italian skies he can watch the bud and bloom of the young republic that has sprung "armed and booted" from the deserted throne of Spain's last King.

Profound ignorance nowhere finds a better opportunity to air itself than when placed on a coroner's jury. The sudden death of the late Emperor of France occasioned considerable discussion in England. Certain physicians published severe strictures on the treatment of Napoleon's malady. The irritated surgeons thus assailed have at last given to the world a satisfactory account of the immediate cause of Napoleon's death. The ex-Emperor, say they, had been suffering from a complicated disease for many years, and "his death was only a question of time!" And the coroner's jury dispassionately considered the matter and decided that Napoleon "died for want of free circulation of the blood." How these astute Britons ever arrived at the remarkable conclusion that death would follow the refusal of the blood to circulate properly is one of the standing wonders of the British intellect.

The House Committee on Ways and Means says the Boston Advertiser have before them a bill to admit certain books free of duty. The list embraces, "The Life of St. Patrick," "The Illustrated History of Ireland," "Jesus and Jerusalem," "Visit to the Altar of Mary," "The Living Crib," "The Catechism of Irish History" and some others of similar character, all by Sister Mary Francis Clare, of the Convent of Poor Clares, Kenmon county, Ireland. The reason for asking that these books be admitted free of duty is that they are published for the poor and it is desired to give the poor of this country the benefit of them, which it is said can not be done at the present rate of duties.

The Congressional Globe of the 1st of February contains the discussion in the Senate of the Australian Steamship bill usually mentioned in the dispatches as "Webb's Subsidy bill." The Senators from the Pacific States are all said to be in favor of the bill, though none took part in the debate except Mr. Nye of Nevada and Mr. Corbett of Oregon. Both these gentlemen strongly advocated the passage of the bill as a national measure, and especially as a matter of great importance to the commerce of the Pacific Coast.

A Washington dispatch of the 2d instant says Randolph Rogers' model of statue of Admiral Farragut having arrived a Washington, the House reconsidered the resolution by which the time for presenting models was extended one month, and the competition was then closed. All but one or two of the models exhibited are said to be utterly unsatisfactory. Miss Vinnie Ream's was broken in moving. The election of a model and artist devolves upon the Joint Committee on public buildings and grounds.

In the Senate on the 9th inst., Mr. Wilson presented a petition from one thousand clerks in the various departments at Washington praying for the passage of a pending bill to abolish the sale of liquor in the District of Columbia. This is the first substantial sign of the whereabouts of the Millennium. But who would have suspected the thousand Washington clerks were capable of this spasm of virtue? Perhaps they want Congress to enact that it shall be given away.

The Senator to succeed Hon. Henry Wilson will be elected by the Massachusetts General Court to-day. The prominent candidates for that high office are Dawes, Boutwell, Loring, Hoar and Whiting. At last accounts Henry L. Dawes led his competitors by a strong vote.

Under date of February 11th, Minister Sickles telegraphed Secretary Fish as follows:

"The Cortes have adopted a republican form of Government by a vote of 259 to 32."

The New Postal Bill.

The following is the text of the bill to amend the postal laws as it passed the House of Representatives, Feb. 11th:

Be it enacted, etc., That on and after the first day of July next, on all mail matter which is wholly or partly in writing, except book, magazine, and newspaper manuscript, and corrected proofs passing between authors and publishers, and excepting also correspondence on postal cards; on all printed matter which is so marked as to convey any other or further information than as conveyed by the original print, except the correction of mere typographical errors; on all matter which is sent in violation of law or regulations of the Department respecting inclosures, and on all matter to which no special rate of postage is assigned, postage shall be charged at the rate of two cents for each half ounce or fraction thereof; and this provision shall include all letters commonly known as drop or local letters, delivered through postoffices or their carriers; and magazine manuscripts are hereby declared to belong to the third class of mailable matter.

Section 2. That, from and after the 1st of January next, under such regulations and in such manner as the Postmaster General shall prescribe, the postage, as provided by law to be paid upon printed matter or mailable matter of the second class, shall in all cases be pre-paid and collected at the offices respectively where such matter shall be mailed; and postage on daily newspapers not exceeding four ounces each copy in weight shall be charged and collected at the rate of fifteen cents per quarter; provided, that weekly newspapers within their respective counties where the same are printed and published, and none other, may pass through the mails free of postage, as provided in the eighth clause of section 154 of the act to revise, consolidate and amend the statutes relative to the Postoffice Department.

Section 3. That any person who shall take any letter, postal card or packet out of the postoffice or branch postoffice, or from a letter or mail carrier, or which has been in any postoffice or branch postoffice, or in custody of any letter or mail carrier, before it shall have been delivered to the person to whom it was directed, with the design to obstruct correspondence or pry into the business or secrets of another, or shall secrete, embezzle or destroy the same, shall, on conviction thereof, for every such offense, forfeit and pay a penalty not exceeding $500, or be imprisoned at hard labor not exceeding one year, or both, at the discretion of the court.

In his address before the Poland Committee on February 11th, Mr. Colfax offered evidence explaining the check for $1,200 which Oakes Ames swore he had received as a dividend on Credit Mobilier stock. His statement is to the following effect:

Two hundred dollars was paid him by Matthews, his step-father, on account of a debt of $455, and the balance, $1,000, was received by him in a letter from George W. Nesbitt of New York, as a contribution to his election expenses, it being immediately after his nomination for the Vice-Presidency. This letter was opened by Colfax at the breakfast table with the rest of his morning mail, and was read aloud to members of the family, consisting at that time of his mother, Matthews and his half sister, and was commented upon, as such a gratifying and unusual event naturally would be. The writer expressed gratification at Colfax's nomination, and asked him to accept the inclosure as a part of the expenses of the election. Colfax then went into a lengthy minute statement of his financial matters for the past five years, explaining where various amounts credited him in his bank account came from.

The statement of Colfax in relation to the $1,000 received from Nesbitt was corroborated by the testimony of Matthews, his father-in-law, who also testified to the payment of $200 about the same time, and by the testimony of Mrs. Hollister, half sister to Colfax, who came from Utah to testify for the Vice President. There were other witnesses who could be produced, but Poland announced that the proof on that point was sufficient.

Colfax testified that he sent the $1,000 to Connor, Chairman of the Indiana Republican Committee.

A Washington dispatch of the 8th instant, says:

The conference committee's report on the coinage bill has been agreed to by both houses. The bill goes into effect on the 1st of April. It provides that gold coins reduced in weight by natural abrasion not more than one-half of one per cent. shall be received by the treasury at their nominal value and recoined, if circulated for twenty years, and received at their ratable proportions for any period under twenty years. Silver bullion may be deposited for forming into bars or trade dollars, but not for coinage otherwise; but silver bullion contained in gold deposits and separated therefrom may be paid for in silver coin at such valuation as the Director of the Mint prescribes. Casserley's amendment was agreed to, retaining the device of the eagle on the half-dollar, quarter-dollar and dime.

The peace policy toward the Modocs was adopted on the recommendation of ex-Superintendent Meacham, General Applegate, and other Oregonians here, whose representations seem to show conclusively the impolicy of the course of producing a conflict; therefore the President sends as commissioners to investigate the matter fully; Meacham, Jesse Applegate and Samuel Case. In the meantime, military operations are to be suspended.

We find the following Washington dispatch in the Boston Advertiser of the 3d of February:

Mr. C. W. Mead, general manager of the Northern Pacific Railroad, is in town to-day. He states that trains have run regularly on schedule time all winter, from Duluth to Moorehead, on the Red River of the North, without delay or obstruction from snow, except for two days of the great storm, January 5th and 6th, during which time trains were suspended by orders from headquarters, waiting for the storm to close. The following day the whole road was opened, and there has been no trouble since. The snow fences have proved completely successful, and protect the track perfectly. Mr. Mead will lay the thirty miles of remaining track to reach the Missouri river in twenty days, and will have a line of boats running to Fort Benton, 1,200 miles farther up the Missouri river, as soon as navigation opens. The most friendly relations exist between the Northern and Canada Pacific roads, and it now appears probable that the construction of the latter road will be begun at Fort Garry, advancing westward from that point and turning its trade and travel over the Northern Pacific to the Eastern markets and seaports. The rumor lately current that the Northern Pacific intends to ask the Government to guarantee their bonds is without foundation.

The entire public debt of the United States, exclusive of Pacific Railway Bonds, is $2,260,943,639 63. Cash in the Treasury $98,285,058 39. Of this debt $1,750,016,000 00 bears interest in coin; $16,608,000 00 bears interest in currency; $488,310,649 69 bears no interest.

The amount of outstanding bonds issued to the Pacific Railway, $64,623,512 00. Interest due and unpaid on Railway bonds $323,117 56. Interest paid on these bonds by the Government $18,509,280 90. Interest repaid by the Railways by transportation of mails &c., $4,118,432 75.

These figures are from the official statement by the Secretary of the Treasury of the 31st of January.

Here is a specimen of the geographical knowledge in use in the best newspaper offices in the East. It is from the Boston Advertiser's shipping reports:

"Oregon Shipping: Sailed from Tacoma 23d, ship Shirley, Matthews, San Francisco. Sailed from Anaheim 22d, brig J. B. Ford, Weeks, San Francisco."

At last the Boston papers announce that the smallpox epidemic is abating. It has been more difficult to prevent the spread of the disease during this visitation than at any preceding one.

London papers announce the death of Charles Town Fowler, a reporter, who had given his exclusive attention for thirty years to writing accounts of fires.

Contributions to the Harvard College Fund have more than replaced the loss sustained by the Boston fire.

Vice President Colfax is not so easily put down as some of the others whom Oaks Ames' testimony seemed to implicate in the Credit Mobilier swindle. He is disposed to go to the bottom of the matter, and to give his accusers an opportunity to make the most of his case. A New York paper of February 2d says:

Mr. Colfax has not been absent from the Senate a day this week, as erroneously telegraphed, having presided more or less every day. He denies the telegraphed statement that he expects to prove that his deposit of June 22d came from Messrs. Shoemaker, G. H. Stewart or A. D. Bowen, but expresses confidence in his ability to fully vindicate himself. He also states that after McComb first testified last winter about some letters he had from Ames as to some of his rulings as Speaker, he (Colfax) addressed a letter to the chairman of the committee, asking that McComb be required to either produce the letters or point out the ruling so that it could be examined by any parliamentary expert as to its correctness. Colfax desires to go before the committee the very day that Ames returns to the city, their conflicting statements having been given thus far in the presence of both.

A New York paper of the 3d instant contains accounts of fires at different places the day previous, destroying property of the aggregate value of $400,000.

TUESDAY MORNING, FEBRUARY 18, 1873

CITY.

INSECURELY TIED.—Recently our attention was called to the insufficient manner in which the wire cable at the foot of Stark street is secured The end of the cable is strongly attached to an iron bolt driven into the sidewalk at the top of the street It extends down the roadway, and a short distance above where it enters the water the cable is tied to some heavy timbers only by ngrass rope The rope is attached to the cable to keep it near the edge of the sidewalk and prevent it from swinging across the street as the ferry boat draws down in crossing the stream At the present stage of water when the current runs strong, the ferry boat, as a natural result, is forced down the river as far as the rope will allow The boat swings below the line of the streets on each side, and brings to bear an immense strain on the cable From the way in which it is secured on this side of the river, there is nothing whatever to prevent the rope from extending diagonally across the foot of Stark street but the grass rope before mentioned As the boat passes to and fro the strain brought to bear causes the cable to vibrate violently Such continued motion will cause the wire to sever by degrees the fibres of the grass rope, so that that stay must give way some time When the strain may pause the rope to break no human soan tell. Several persons are always standing along the roadway, waiting for the boat to arrive Should the rope part when the ferry is in the stream, there would be no obstacle to prevent the wire cable from swinging over to the great disablement or destruction of human life The cable ought to be secured in a number of places by chains instead of ropes It is to be hoped that the managers of the ferry will attend to the matter at once

INVITATIONS.—We are informed that it is the intention of the Committee of Arrangements appointed by Baker Post, G. A. R, to issue 800 invitations for the grand Inauguration Ball, to be given at the Skating Rink on the 4th of March No tickets will be sold except to those to whom invitations have been sent. The concert, which will come off during the earlier part of the evening, will be a separate affair from the ball. Persons can purchase tickets for the concert or the ball, or for both, if they so desire. Admission to the concert is only 50 cents, for the ball, $2, and for both, those two sums combined. Holders of concert tickets only, of course, will not be allowed to remain or participate in the ball which will follow

BRANCH MINT.—Pursuant to orders, Mr H A Hogue, special agent for the Dalles Branch Mint, disposed of all the portable property connected with the building on the third of last December This sale was subject to the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury A report of the sale was forwarded at once to Washington, and letters of approval from the Secretary were received a few days ago. Mr. Hogue is now instructed to proceed to the Dalles and formally turn over all the property to the purchaser in accordance with the conditions of the sale. He will start for the Dalles in a few days to obey his instructions

INSULATORS DAMAGED.—The telegraph company experiences a great deal of trouble on account of the insulators being broken at many places in this city and along the route, and particularly in the neighborhood of school houses. It appears the boys take these insulators as a mark for throwing stones at, and when they once commence, what they think an innocent amusement, they go through with it, and the result is a broken insulator in each instance. The employes of the company are kept at work repairing damage done in this manner.

DELEGATES.—The following delegates have been elected to attend the State Temperance Alliance, by Nonpareil Lodge No. 86, I. O. G. T.: E. W. Ryan, S. T. N. Stearns, J. F. Davis, E. E. Hopkinson, R. A. Wilcox, R. Bird. The following delegates were chosen from Multnomah Lodge, same order: A. G. Walling, W. A Hart, L. M. Parrish, M. M. Applegate, G. W. Vellum, W. Bodman, D. McKay, James Cummings, M. A. Herndon, J. B. Garrison, M. Wilson, D. Wilson.

WENT OVERLAND.—Mr. R. R. Thompson and wife started overland yesterday morning, bound for San Jose, California. They go to pay a visit to their daughter, Mrs. Capt. Pollock, residing at that place, whose husband has been recently ordered East. The summons came hastily, and Mr. and Mrs. Thompson were compelled to start at once in order to arrive in time to say farewell to their daughter and son-in-law prior to their departure for the East.

CLEARING AWAY DEBRIS.—The debris and rubbish which have encumbered the site of the brick buildings formerly occupying the eastern side of Front street, between Washington and Alder streets, were being cleared away by workmen yesterday. This work is preparatory to commencing to lay anew the stone foundation, on which brick structures are soon to rise. When the weather fairly opens operations will begin.

LECTURE AT SALEM.—Our fellow townsman Mrs. A. J Dunlway will lecture at Reed's Opera House in Salem this evening on the Life and Times of Gen. E D. Baker. Mrs. D. has not delivered any lecture on this subject to our knowledge but we doubt not that her audience will be highly entertained, as she is certain to handle it in an able manner.

HOUSES COMMENCED.—Several carpenters began a few days ago to erect three dwelling houses on the eastern side of the river a short distance above the mouth of Brooklyn creek The buildings will be used as residences for those who are expected to work in the new stove foundry, clearing for the site of which has already been commenced.

EXAMINED.—John Kallahar was examined before United States Commissioner R. Wilcox, yesterday. The defendant was charged with having secreted property after proceedings in bankruptcy were instituted against him. The matter was taken under advisement, and a decision will be given by the Commissioner this morning at 11 o'clock.

NEW POST.—A new Post of the Grand Army of the Republic we are informed will soon be organized at Corvallis by the Assistant Inspector General, Major Johnson. The necessary papers were forwarded to that place last week As soon as all the arrangements can be effected Mr. Johnson will proceed to Corvallis and institute a new post

THE MISSING STEAMER.—The Victoria Colonist of the 13th inst., states that the Otter brings no tidings of the U. S mail steamer Geo S. Wright, beyond that she passed Skoonamouth on her way south about five weeks ago. She should have arrived back at Nanaimo from Sitka 27 days ago, and her non-appearance creates much anxiety.

EAST OF THE MOUNTAINS.—Thomas Titch, an old and well known resident of East Portland, starts for east of the mountains this morning on the Dalles packet. He proposes to take up a permanent residence in the vicinity of Walla Walla, and engage in the stock raising business.

FAST DRIVING.—Hank Jones was arrested yesterday by the City Marshal of East Portland, on the charge of rapid driving over the bridged streets He gave bonds for his appearance in the sum of $10 before the Recorder this morning, when the case will be inquired into

NEW SHAFT.—The new shaft cranks, boxing flanges, etc., to be used for the new steamer being built at the Dalles, will be taken up this morning on the boat. The engines which are being manufactured at the Oregon Iron Works, will soon be forwarded to the same destination.

FROM YAQUINA.—Mr. E. N. Sawtelle, whose dwelling house was burned some weeks ago by the Indians on the Siletz Reservation, is now in the city. We presume that his business is to adjust his loss with some of the insurance companies here.

FOG WHISTLE.—Mr T. J. Winship, U S. Inspector of Light Houses, took his departure last evening on the Gussie Telfair. He goes to Tatoosh Island to put in order the fog whistle at that place which is out of repair.

DETAINED.—Parties just from Astoria inform us that the steamer Ajax had not left Fort Stevens up to Sunday noon. The occasion of the delay was the extreme roughness of the bar, and thick weather off.

Window shades, cornices, curtains, picture nails, etc., also all kinds of upholstery work done at Paul Richter's.

BOARD OF TRUSTEES

The Board of Trustees of East Portland met last evening at the usual hour, Mr VanCleave in the chair

Members present—Garrigan, McMillen, Shattuck, Stephens and VanCleave Absent—J C Hawthorne

Minutes of last meeting read and approved.

PETITIONS, ETC

A petition was read from C C Crimmons for the right to erect a wharf 130 feet long, fronting on the river opposite the foot of Holladay avenue The wharf to be constructed above the low water mark, on which are to be built one or more warehouses, The petition was referred to the Committee on Landings and Wharves.

REPORTS

A report was received from the Committee on Accounts and Current Expenses, to whom was referred the claim of the Bulletin for $150 The Committee reported in favor of the claim and recommended its payment On motion a warrant was ordered drawn on the General Fund for that purpose

The Committee on Fire and Water also submitted a report in relation to the organization of a fire company in East Portland The committee reported adverse to the organization of such a company. They also stated that the financial condition of the city would not warrant the necessary outlay required to purchase an engine and give a company an outfit They recommended the organization of a Volunteer Bucket Company for the present, until the city was able to purchase an engine At present the organization of a fire company was impracticable. The report was adopted.

A report of the viewers in the matter of the proposed extension of Water street, was read. The viewers reported favorably to the opening of the street and assessed the damages to Jos Knott at $25. The report was accepted, and on motion was referred to the Committee on Streets and Public Property, with instructions to report by ordinance

CLAIMS.

The following claims were allowed and warrants ordered drawn in favor of their payment Herald, $12, W F. Allen, S F. Korns and T. J. Carle, viewers in the matter of the extension of Water street, each, $3, Geo. A. Steel, $4 10, J. W. Clayton, $275.

MISCELLANEOUS.

A resolution was introduced by Mr. VanCleave, instructing the City Surveyor to survey Sixteenth street, from Salem to J. Adopted.

The City Attorney stated he would suggest that the committee to whom had been referred the report of the viewers in the matter of the extension of Water street, be in no haste to report by ordinance, in consequence of the absence of Mr. Knott. Before the Board took any action in the matter, it ought to be known whether Mr. Knott intended to take an appeal or not. If a suit resulted, the jury might award such damages that the city might not feel justified in paying

The President stated that the matter was in the hands of the committee; there was no necessity for haste; they could report at any time when the Board should require the same.

Mr. Garrigan moved that a warrant of $25 be drawn in favor of Mr. Knott for the damages assessed, and that the same be tendered his attorney. Adopted.

On motion the Board adjourned.

We are gratified to announce that W. S. Ladd, Esq, who has been confined to his room for several weeks past with illness, will be able to resume business in the course of a week.

AMUSEMENTS.

There will be a social party given at Protection No. 4's house on Thursday evening next. A pleasant time may be anticipated.

The young people of East Portland will give a ball at the Odd Fellows' Hall on Wednesday evening. Good music will be in attendance, and the occasion will doubtless be a pleasurable one.

The Washington Guard will give their tenth annual ball at Armory Hall on next Friday evening Grand preparations are being made for the occasion, which will doubtless prove a very pleasurable social affair

MASON, O M. holds himself in readiness to forward all orders for anything in his line, to all quarters of the city. He is bound to keep ahead in everything and to satisfy yourself in the matter, call on him at his new location corner of Yamhill and First streets If he can't furnish you with the article you desire then you can reckon on not getting it in the city. His prices have been adjusted to suit all classes Take a peep at the goods in store and fall not to stop to-night Prompt attention will be paid to your wants.

Race for Liberty

TWICE ACROSS LAKE CHAMPLAIN ON THE ICE.—CAUGHT AT LAST.

On the 22d of December, a bugler named Shiette escaped from the jail in Crittenden county, Vermont, and was not recaptured until January 4th. For ten days he remained in the neighborhood of of Burlington, but on the 31st was frightened away and struck out for Plattsburg. He was followed closely, and on the morning of the 4th he started from Plattsburg for Colchester Point, pursued by the sheriffs and two farmers named Martin and Crown. Them followed an exciting race over Lake Champlain, on the ice, of which the Burlington Free Press gives the following account:

Now commenced the race for his liberty. Martin and Crown followed him as he ran to the southwest shore. Reaching the lake, he made the utmost speed for Stave Island, about a mile distant. Running across the island, with his pursuers hotly after him, he again took the ice in the direction of Port Jackson. Martin and Crown soon discovered that the burglar was more swift on foot than themselves, so off went their boots, and in their stocking feet they redoubled their efforts to capture him. Coming within twenty rods, they fired their revolvers at him twice, but with no effect. He turned around, waved his handkerchief, and shouting opprobious epithets, defied them to catch up with him. On they fled, pursued and pursuers, across to the New York shore, the ice not being over two inches in thickness and badly cracked. They reached the shore at the mouth of Dead Creek about three miles south of Port Jackson His daring pursuers here lost sight of the object of their pursuit in the bushes along the banks and went up a hill near by to take observations, and while there the fellow ran along the shore and took the lake again, for a perilous journey to the Vermont side. Just after starting he met some boys skating, and accosting them, said "There is a man broke out of jail at Burlington and I am after him, let me have your skates and you hold my rubbers for a few minutes." It took but a minute for him to buckle on his skates, and away he struck like a deer for the south end of the island, reaching there about dark. When Martin and Crown discovered that Shiette had taken to the ice again, Martin went to a house about a mile off and got a pair of skates, and started himself in pursuit, but was two miles behind him when he reached the other shore

Shiette's capture occurred as follows. Upon his arrival on South Island he met once took a bee line for the house of Joseph Pasha on Colchester Point. Here he found waiting for him policeman Charles Wright, James Durham, S F Ireneus and John Marks, who had been watching that shore for some time He seemed in a terribly exhausted condition, his feet being very badly swollen, and during his fearful ice excursion of the day had taken two pieces of bone from his broken jaw. He certainly is a miracle of endurance, and must have traveled on Saturday at least fifty miles

Insurance Circular.

At a meeting of the stockholders of the California Mutual Life Insurance Company held on the 10th inst, it was unanimously decided to dissolve the corporation. The following circular has been sent to all the policy holders

THE CIRCULAR.

The California Mutual Life Insurance Company has discontinued issuing new policies, and reinsured all its outstanding risks with the "Republic Life Insurance Company, of Chicago, Ill."

We have been prompted to this action by considerations for the interests of both stockholders and policy-holders

Unfortunately, all life insurance companies organized under the laws of this State are obliged to pay $12,500 per annum as a commission to a Guarantee Fund, which is one of no benefit to policy-holder or company, but simply a legal requirement, which diminishes the dividends to policy-holders to that extent.

Under this law the guarantee note givers of this company have received $62,500 that should have gone to policy-holders in dividends

With this legal incubus absorbing a large percentage of our earnings, we became satisfied that we could not honestly encourage our policy-holders with hopes of a dividend that would reduce the cost of our policies to the actual expense of carrying the risks, hence our discontinuance of business and the reinsurance of out-standing policies, which will relieve policy-holders who may exchange our policies for those of the "Republic" from further payments to guarantee notes.

The "Republic" is a stock company with a capital of $5,000,000, $1,000,000 paid in, and the balance payable on demand.

It has distributed its stock into the hands of about two thousand of the leading business men in the country, and organized branch companies in all the leading business centers of the United States, by which it has obtained a larger business than any other company ever did of the same age.

A branch of the "Republic" is now being organized in this city, whith a capital of $500,000 with many of our leading men as stockholders. The capital and all the receipts of the company on this coast will be invested here, by the officers of this branch, which makes it a home company, backed by the combined capital and business of the company all over the United States.

The "Republic" rates of premium are from 25 to 30 per cent. below the charges of mutual companies and they have agreed to exchange their policies for those of California Mutual on application of policy-holders, charging them lower rates and dating their policies to conform with ours. This will give you the option of holding on policy or exchanging it for the Republic at a lower rate of premium, equal to about 33 per cent. dividend in a mutual company, paid in advance.

The California Mutual can and will keep good all its obligations, so long as the policy-holders perform their part of the contract.

Do not allow yourself to be deceived by any reports of the insolvency of this company; it was never more able to meet its liabilities than at the present time Continue to pay your premiums as heretofore

By this re-insurance, the company has simply protected itself and added to the security of the policy-holders the obligation of a company with $5,000,000 capital.

The present officers of the California Mutual will be associated in the management of the California branch of the "Republic," and the business will be done from the office, where premiums are payable as heretofore.

One of the officers of this company will visit you at your early day, and explain this matter more fully.

THOS. A. BALL, President.
R. G. SNEATH, Vice President.
JOHN CROCKETT, Secretary.

THE ROYAL NATIONAL LIFE-BOAT INSTITUTION.—We know what the Royal Humane Society is; for it is always at work, and its fame is wide in the earth. Well, England is sown generously with just such institutions—not government pets, but supported entirely by voluntary contributions of the people. And they make no pow-wow one does not even see the names of their officers in print. Now there is the Royal National Life-Boat Institution, for instance. During the year 1869 it saved 28 vessels; its boats saved 1,072 human lives; it paid in cash rewards for saving life, $12,000 gold. It keeps its own boats and boat stations, has its men on guard night and day, under regular salaries, and pays them an extra reward for every life saved. Since it first began its work it has saved a fraction under 19,000 lives; it has conferred 99 gold medals and 807 silver ones; it has given away $158,000 in cash rewards for saving life, and has expended $1,183,390 on its life-boat stations and life-saving apparatus. And all that money was obtained by voluntary subscriptions.—Mark Twain in N. Y. Tribune.

An Easy Way to Health

The appetite is generally keener in winter, than in summer but the same low temperature which begets an increased desire for food is apt to decrease the ability of the stomach to digest it The most aggravated cases of acute dyspepsia occur at this season, and the best, and, in fact, the only way to control and cure them, is to stimulate and tone the stomach and invigorate and regulate the nutritive and discharging organs. To do this promptly, safely and thoroughly (without involving any change in the ordinary habits of the invalid), a course of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters will be necessary In order to accomplish a radical cure of indigestion, it is not enough to influence the organs of digestion The liver, the intestines, the circulation every organ and every secretion concerned in the work of assimilating the food and in carrying off the waste matter of the system must be brought into a natural condition Upon all these portions of the living machinery, the great vegetable medicine, which stands at the head of all modern restoratives, acts powerfully and beneficially The feeble should take at least one dose daily at all seasons of the year, and it may be taken with great benefit twice a day by all who are predisposed to dyspepsia, biliousness or nervous attacks Ladies will find it a very great help in the latter class of complaints, and indeed in all the ailments incident to the sex.

The Illustrious Dead.

The New York Herald commemorates the demise of the victims of Credit Mobilier, in the verses given below. The elegies on several of the gentlemen mentioned are premature, and, as the evidence now stands, unjust, but quite as amusing as if they were just

The terrible and widespread ravages of that extraordinary disease called Credit Mobilier are alarming the whole nation. The epizootic was as mild as the measles compared to it. It has already carried off many men, distinguished via timo. It did not come from Canada like the epizootic, nor from Asia like the cholera, nor from the West Indies like the yellow fever. It is believed to have started somewhere in Pennsylvania, and, meeting with a favorable condition of the atmosphere in Washington, District of Columbia, stayed there, and was developed by reason of the defective sanitary arrangements in the political system of the Capital. Great sympathy is felt for Massachusetts, so many of her distinguished citizens having been swept off. The subjoined list of deaths will be read with painful interest by the public. The notices are inserted (contrary to our usual custom) free of charge:

AMES, HOAX, of Massachusetts. Died of Credit Mobilier, (long and lingering ill rest,) aged 69.

O lofty worth, whose virtues were unknown,
O shining light, whose glamor was unseen;
Whose latest spasm of godlike work has shown
What men were not, but what they might have been
Thou'st told the truth but half a truth many times,
O consecrated essence of a Hoax.

All stockholders of the Union Pacific railroad who received a higher dividend than 250 per cent. are cordially invited to attend the funeral.

Massachusetts papers please copy.

ALLEY, JOHN B., of Massachusetts.—Died of C. M., (not cholera morbus—was discovered with the disease too late for the physic,) aged about a century.

O'er this sad wreck let mankind never daily;
Fraud knocked down every ninepin in this Alley.
This is nobody's funeral.

ALLISON, JOHN B., of Iowa, died of C. M., (an overdose of dividend hastened his departure,) aged 50 years.

Long dead to us, sweet Allison,
The Hoax thou coddest not rally;
If so soon done, why not begun,
Thou fragrant son of Alley?

Remains will be embalmed

BINGHAM, JOHN A., of Ohio, died of C. M., (supposed to have caught the fatal infection from Dawes,) aged 62 years.

Mourn for him, 'twixin, he'll wake you no more
With shouts against the theft, Buckeye Bingham,
The death bells shall boom how he garnered his store,
And gentle Ben Butler will ring 'em

Announcement of funeral hereafter.

Ohio papers please copy.

BROOKS, JIM, of New York, died of C. M., (protesting to the last that he was well in health, no remedies were administered,) aged 62.

He chattered, chattered as he went
To join the great Salt River;
Hoax might threat or Hoax relent,
But he'd deny forever.
'Long well-filled "banks" his way he picked,
With watered "drafts," ne'er
McComb might "dam," McComb convict,
Jim Brooks denied forever.

His funeral will have no political significance.

COFFAX, SMITH, of Indiana, died of C. M. (the agonies of this poor victim were intense to the last he insisted that it was something else besides Credit Mobilier), aged, 42.

A beautiful smiler came in one night,
Too lively and fair to remain;
They stretched him on rack till the soul of Colfax
Flapped up into Heaven again.
May the fate of poor Schuyler warn men of a smiler,
Who dividends gets on the brain!

Indiana papers please copy.

DAWES, HENRY L., of Massachusetts, died of C. M. (he had the reputation of having a powerful constitution, but it was evidently a delusion,) aged 57.

Retrenchment Leader! Thou has left us;
Plymouth Rock thy loss will feel;
For a pottage-mess bereft us,
Old Honesty is unexpected.

Funeral strictly private. No wake.

KETTY, WILLIAM D., of Pennsylvania, died of C. M. (too much iron in his blood, and too little protection of himself made him an easy victim to the foil destroyer), aged 60.

Weep not "pig iron," public dear,
He is not dead, tho' sleeping here;
His thunder's hushed, his eye is dim,
Mobilier put a head on him.

His remains will be "protected" in a metallic casket. A one-horse funeral announced hereafter.

PATTERSON, JAMES W., of New Hampshire, died of C. M. (his suffering drew from him his friends; he persisted to the end in supposing it was a different complaint), aged 60 years.

Peaceful be Uriah's slumber,
Heaped he is in burial low;
Thirty shares his coffin cumber,
How it is yourself you know.

Mourning by Senators for thirty days. A granite sarcophagus will inclose the remains.

SOOFIELD, GIDEON W., of Pennsylvania, died of C. M. (passed off quietly), aged 58.

Hoax Amos, the Ancient Mariner,
Stopped Navy Scofield bland.
He held him with his glittering eye
And with his skinny hand.
Then Scofield did a hellish thing,
And it did work him woe,
His ten shares clipped him on the wing,
And laid the Quaker low.

Pennsylvania papers please copy. Funeral at an early day. Music by the band: "Down in a Coal Mine."

WILSON, HENRY, of Newcastleite, died of C. M., (great hopes were entertained of his recovery), aged 61.

His sinning score long time he bore
In spite of gout and phthisic,
Till bad Hoax Ames, of sinful names,
Had eased him of his stock.
His "solo" had no'er into the void been cast
Had he "waxed" firm and stuck unto his "last."

Natick (Massachusetts) papers please copy. Memorial services at Faneuil Hall. No ice in need apply.

WILSON, JAMES F., of Iowa, died of C. M., (astonished everybody, he had hitherto enjoyed such excellent health), aged 45.

Tears, idle tears! he knew not what they meant,
But counted them three dollars for a share;
They blotted out a life we thought well spent—
All it was his weakness nothing but a snare?

Rev. Dr. Newman will conduct the services and preach the panegyric from his campaign notes. Free list entirely suspended.

A Book Worm.

The St. Paul Press is responsible for the following:

A gentleman stopped into a prominent book store in this city, the other day. He enquired for the "head clerk." A young man in attendance informed him that the person who held that exalted position was out, but he felt himself qualified to wait upon the gentleman if he required "anything in their line." The gentleman replied that he preferred to see the chief clerk, and being informed that he would be in presently, sat down. The superintending official appeared in due time and was informed that the stranger waited. That individual introduced himself as a "Legislator, sir," and proceeded to say that as he would have a great many otherwise vacant evenings during the winter he desired to improve the time in literary research, and he thought, perhaps, he might make special terms for books by bestowing all of his patronage upon that establishment.

The clerk rubbed his hands. Oh, yes, they would discount to the gentleman liberally; in fact, it was peculiarly fortunate that he had come to them first; they could name better rates than any other establishment in the city. Did the gentleman desire to make a selection that afternoon? Yes, the gentleman did; and the attentive clerk spent an hour displaying their extensive stock of miscellaneous and standard works. It took the honorable gentleman the biggest part of ten minutes to decide between a handsome set of Dickens and Walter Scott, and he finally left both for a historical spasm over Macaulay. He hovered lovingly for a while over the British Poets, and relinquished them for a five minutes laudatory course by the clerk over Mark Twain's twain volumes. Then they got down to the corner of choice to the antiquarian, with its shelves filled with rare and antique tomes of science and art. But the honorable gentleman could not decide, and finally the clerk was called away. He excused himself, and left the Solon to search alone.

Shortly the clerk returned, and found the representative of the people low upon his knees poring over a scattered pile of fresh works under a counter. He remarked as the clerk approached, "Here, I guess I'll take this," and rising he held out to the astonished, and it is needless to say disgusted clerk that highly intellectual publication of Beadle's, "Bill Biddon, Trapper," price "one dime."

THE HONESTEST MAN IN THE HOUSE.—"Supposing that they should expel you, Mr. Ames?" asked one of his friends. "Expel me, sir! expel me!" exclaimed old Hoax, "what do you mean, sir? Expel the honestest man in the House! Pshaw, they won't do it, no sir," and he put his hands into his side pocket to see if the old wallet was still safe. The impression prevails among leading members of the House that Hoax is right. If arraigned he will ask the members whose hands are clean of jobs to cast the first vote. No one knows how many pledges the old pawnbroker has got, and sure as fate Uncle Hoax will discover that "memorandum book" if he is pressed too hard.—New York Herald's Special.

An order was recently received at Salt Lake City from a lady, desiring a couple of Mormons for her squadron. She got mixed on polywogs and polygamy.

A Kansas man dropped a little note to a neighbor's wife, inviting her to meet him under the pale silver moon. The husband got the note first, and kept the appointment. Two doctors have been at work on the Kansas man, in whom they found a rich lead mine.

When Sydney Smith had gravely listened to the details of a mad-dog's course through the streets of London—how he frightened a bishop, and was at length dispatched with difficulty—the clerical wit remarked that he should like to hear the dog's side of the story.

The following pun, which needs a good deal of chewing before the juice can be extricated, appears in All the Year Round: "The Jesuits, driven out of Germany, have only to go to America. They will be sure to find the institutions of l'Ohio la (of Loyola) there."

A timid resident of Ridgefield, Connecticut, being unexpectedly called upon to address a Sunday school, rose to his feet in confusion, and after several desperate but vain attempts to say something appropriate, hoarsely muttered, "Dear children, never fool with powder."

A plan is broached in Boston to supply heat, power and protection to all buildings within 2,000 feet of huge central boilers, to be located in Winthrop square; and a bill has been introduced in the State Senate to incorporate a company for the purpose with a capital of $500,000.

Precious gems were used to lighten the horror of tombs, and we are told that the tomb of Edward the Confessor, in Westminster Abbey, contained 84 jewels of great value, and the tomb of Thomas a'Becket, in Canterbury Cathedral, was celebrated for its great wealth of gems.

Charles Dudley Warner declares that you can not bring up a family without the rallying point of a hearthstone. The frequently beleaguered part nor of a Madison avenue Xantippe has tried it very often, and says he wouldn't give a cent for a hearthstone as a rallying point.—New York Commercial Advertiser.

Vast numbers of animals are already arriving for Mr. Barnum from every direction and from every clime. Among these is a fairy elephant, so dainty and small that it can be carried about upon the shoulder of any man who has an inclination to try. It comes from the East Indies, and weighs 140 pounds.

The Viceroy of Egypt says he is going to build one or two pyramids, beside which the old trio of stone heaps will seem like an ant-hill at the foot of a mountain. He has written to Tweed to know if the latter will "boss" the job of construction, and can furnish two or three good masons and plasterers that can be depended on.

The Commercial Advertiser deplores the insurmountable ways of Providence. It is filled with regret that one Mrs. Mack, of Illinois, should have been cut off in her prime. She was remarkable for having buried ten good and true husbands. "It seems hard," exclaims that paper, "when she had so nearly reached a dozen husbands—but man only proposes!"

A woman in Macon, Ga., recently attempted suicide by cutting her throat, and, though she failed of immediate success, cannot long survive, for she is unable to swallow any nourishment whatever. She constantly craves food and drink, but the muscles of her throat are paralyzed, and nothing that enters her throat can pass below the wound, so she must starve to death.

Italian revenge is becoming injurious. Signora L——, a fair artiste of the opera in Palermo, stopped to pick up a bouquet thrown upon the stage when a pistol set in the stem of the same discharged, just missing its intended mark. This delicate offering was supposed to have been from a rejected Count. The woman was not versed in horticulture, or she would have suspected the presence of pistils in those flowers.

A judge of a Washington court recently decided in reference to a question concerning the dog tax, that dogs are not property, but are simply "nuisances." Such was the exact word used by this misguided man to express his opinion of dogs. It would be interesting to know what respectable dogs think of him. Your dog of intellect and character is no respecter of persons. To win his approbation, it is necessary that a man should enjoy the acquaintance of some other dog, who will vouch for his respectability. The man may be a judge, or occupy any other elevated station among men, but if, upon a nasal inspection of his clothing, a dog comes to the conclusion that he is not admitted to respectable canine circles, that man is not only considered as a worthless being, but he is in great danger of a laceration of his legs. It may be taken for granted that the Washington judge is not on terms of intimacy with dogs. If, therefore, the opinion of him held by the canine race were ascertained, it would be found to be at least as unfavorable as his own opinion of dogs.

THE FINANCIAL DIFFICULTY.—It is believed that Stanford & Co. would have found it very difficult to have paid the interest on their railroad bonds which fell due a short time since in Europe but for their ability to obtain loans in this city. It now turns out that the closeness in the money market in California was caused from the withdrawal of several millions of dollars sent out of California to pay Stanford & Co.'s indebtedness falling due in Europe.—San Francisco Call, February 9th.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

Financial.

MONDAY EVENING, Feb. 17, 1873.

Gold in New York to-day, 111.

Portland Legal Tender rates, 87½c buying; 88c selling.

Gold bars are quotable at 900 fine.

Wheat in Liverpool—Average, California, 12s1d@12s 3d; Club, 12s8d@13s 3d.

But little change is noted in our local finances, the opinion being pretty well settled that the opening of the spring will be necessary to any very permanent relief, while until that time the tendency will be general in that direction.

It now begins to look as if Congress would reach inauguration without doing much in the way of "doctoring the finances of the country," as their interference is frequently termed by commercial writers. We are not sorry for this, for we are inclined to believe no much in our Governmental system of finances as it exists at present, to think that the old saying, "let well enough alone," might be heeded with advantage.

New York Dry Goods Market.

Advices from New York denote that there is somewhat more activity noticeable among dry goods houses, mostly, though in preparations for business. There have been some few sales of staple cotton fabrics from first hands, though they were in moderate quantities. The trade anticipate that the season will be some week or two later than usual this year, and they are not making their preparations as actively as they generally do at this season. Speculation is very quiet in the dry goods line, and what sales are made are for the regular legitimate wants of the trade. Prices of bleached and unbleached cottons have been firmly maintained, and in some favorite grades there has been a slight advance. Prints are not yet offered in their full variety of spring patterns; medium styles are in good demand at previous prices. Ticks, denims and stripes are in moderate demand at firm rates. Woolen fabrics for clothing use have been dull; prices remain unchanged. For printing cloths the market has been comparatively inactive and only a moderate business has been done; 7¾@7¾c are considered the extreme quotations for extra quality and standard grades. Foreign goods remain very quiet. The stocks of importers are now mostly on exhibition and are quite attractive.

The Eastern Wool Market.

Eastern advices to February 1st denote considerable activity in the markets of New York, Boston and Philadelphia.

The New York manufacturers have at last concluded, seemingly, that it is of no use for them to hold off any longer as holders were very firm, and have come into market to make their necessary purchases, as they cannot afford to put it off any longer. There is very little doing in foreign, the trade being almost wholly confined to domestic fleece and pulled. Prices are a trifle better for some descriptions, especially for those that are in light supply.

New England dealers are in the market of Philadelphia, but their purchases had not been quite as large the past as for the preceding week. City woolen goods manufacturers have also bought, but they confine themselves pretty closely to what they need for immediate requirements and the sales of the past had not been quite up to the preceding week. Among the reported sales were Ohio combing at 58c, half blood at 70c, selected fleeces at 72½c, XX at 68c, Northern rnb at 67½c, and medium at 65c; Indiana quarter blood at 63c, low fleece at 55c and common at 50; Western fine, unwashed, at 42c; pulled merino at 67c, super at 60@65 and No. 1 at 62½c; Colorado, choice, at 48c, fair 42c, washed 55c, and half-washed at 50c; Pennsylvania unwashed at 50c; Pulled merino at 57@62c, super 60c and No. 56c; domestic noils 56@55c, and unwashed and unmerchantable 60c ₰ lb.

Puget Sound Shipping.

The bark Dublin and ship Isaac Jones arrived at Seabeck on the 8th, from San Francisco.

The bark Oregon sailed from Seabeck on the 9th for Valparaiso, with about 800,000 feet of lumber.

The schooner Clara Light sailed from Seattle on the 11th, from San Francisco, with 200 tons of coal, 65,000 feet of lumber and 40 cords of hoops.

The bark Oakland arrived at Port Madison on the 11th, from San Francisco.

The barks Ocean Pearl and Harrison arrived at Seattle on the 12th, from San Francisco.

From Iquiqui, Peru, the Chilian ship Erman Alvarez sailed for the Sound on the 16th of December.

The ship Osgoode, Flynn, is supposed to be the Niagara was to sail on the 25th of December for the Sound, to load with lumber for Valparaiso.

At Callao, Dec 20th, the Costa Rica ship Nignela arrived from Port Gamble, with a cargo of lumber.

Home Produce Market.

WHEAT—That our exporters are still buying, notwithstanding they claim to have enough to load the vessels now here, is proved, to no beyond a doubt by the testimony of those who have recently sold. The present figure is undoubtedly low, and it may be that exporters would be willing to take cargoes for the other vessels which are to arrive at those figures. Whatever may be the motive, we cannot see the benefit which is to accrue to anybody from a concealment of the prices actually paid. Quotations for to-day do not vary from those last given. We are satisfied $1 60 ₰ cental, or more, has been paid since four days ago, but this was for a large lot of 25,000 centals, and it is not likely that that figure would be offered for small lots.

FLOUR—The shipments both to San Francisco and the Sound continue fair, and the home demand is moderately active, but on the whole trade is not lively. Our exports of this commodity have been much larger this season than last, but prices have been such as to insure great profits to shippers. Most of the best mills in our State have agencies in San Francisco and keep more or less of their product in that market. Owing to the immense surplus of the wheat crop of California and the consequent low rates prevailing there, the stocks offered in that city by our State mills this season have been much smaller than usual. We quote our market at $5 50 ₰ bbl for extra, $4 for superfine, and $4 00@5 for country brands.

OATS—The surplus crop of the State is now supposed to be pretty well exhausted, but we learn that prices are not likely to advance, as the demand will not likely increase, the requirements for seeding purposes being now pretty well filled, whilst that for feed will gradually decline as the spring season advances. Prices are nominally given at 60c ₰ bushel, with limited transactions.

HAY—The receipts to-day have been limited. We quote good timothy at $17@19 ₰ ton. There is some wild in the market, but it finds very little sale. Quotable at $9@9 ₰ ton.

APPLES—We quote the best qualities for shipping, boxes included, at 90c@$1 ₰ box. While this is correct for the quality described, many are disposed of from wagons at 60@75c ₰ box.

POTATOES—We notice but little change in prices for several weeks, prices varying at 35@45c ₰ bushel, rates varying as to quality. The kidney variety is generally considered the favorite and commands the best figure.

BUTTER—The market for common lots is as dull as ever and prices seem but little inclined to appreciate. Much that finds its way here is put up in such bad order that it soon becomes "stale and unprofitable," and if the butter does not become "flat," the market for it does, and we never inquire of dealers here concerning the market, but we find that our farmers are much to blame for the quality of this product. Our quotations indicate the various qualities. They are given at 18@22 cents ₰ lb.

BACON—The supply on hand is large and prices are dull. We quote at 11@12½c ₰ lb side, 9@10c for shoulders, and 13@15c for hams. San Francisco advices denote remarkably dull sale for the Oregon product. The surplus in our State is doubtless in excess of former years, and no encouragement is offered to holders.
